FRESHMEN TO DEBATE
WOMEN'S LABOR LAW

Washington College of Law Event
Will Be Held Tuesday
Evening.

The annual public debate of the freshmen class of the Washington College of Law will be held Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the College Hall, 1317 New York avenue northwest. In accordance with the established principle of the institution the class of 1917 has chosen a subject for the principal discussion of the year, which is of immediate local interest. The proposition over which the war of words will be waged is as follows: "Resolved, that the law prohibiting women from working more than eight hours a day in the District of Columbia should be repealed." Those who will uphold the affirmative are Miss S. Christine Quick, Guy F. Glossbrenner and Miss May Warner; alternate, Miss Estella C. Bauer. The negative point of view will be argued by J. D. McLeran, Miss Leslie B. Flenner, E. R. Friend; alternate, R. F. Crist. Suitable prizes will be conferred upon the winners of the debate Tuesday night, which is to be the principal event of the society this year.

APPROVAL OF ACTION
OF COURTS-MARTIAL

Announcement is made at the Navy Department of action in the cases of seven officers convicted by naval courts-martial of various infractions of the regulations. Lieut. R. F. Zogbaum was convicted of the charge of neglect of duty and sentenced to lose one number in his grade. The convening authority considered the sentence inadequate, but approved it, "in order that the accused might not entirely escape punishment."

Lieut. J. J. H. Ingram was found guilty of the charge of neglect of duty and sentenced to be publicly reprimanded. The convening authority disapproved the sentence as inadequate, but directed Lieut. Ingram's release from arrest and his restoration to duty.

Loses Fifty Members.

Ensign H. A. Ward was sentenced to dismissal for disobedience of orders, but in view of the unanimous recommendation of clemency by the court, the sentence was mitigated to a loss of fifty members.

Ensign John T. Melvin was sentenced to lose ten numbers in his grade on account of conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline. Lieut. L. H. Lacey was found guilty of the charge of drunkenness and sentenced to lose ten numbers in his grade.

Prison Sentence Approved.

Ensign E. W. Robinson, who was convicted of charges of perjury and theft, was sentenced to dismissal and to five years' imprisonment. The sentence in this case was approved by the President and the New Hampshire state prison at Concord was designated as the place of confinement.

A Business Tip
Read This

A merchant—a user of Star classified advertising—said: "It's a wonder to me that more small business places do not use The Star classified advertising columns. I have been advertising steadily for months and the results, considering the amount of space I am using, are really remarkable. Why, just the other day a man from a suburban town walked in and gave me a big cash order. Said he saw my ad in The Star."

Taylor fleet of this city, which left here Thursday night, is reported on her way up the bay with one or two light schooners for Baltimore. Later in the season it is understood the Davis will return to the Delaware to take up charter work as tender to a dredging plant.

The tugs of the local sand and gravel dredging concerns, which have had but little work to do for several weeks past, are being made ready for the resumption of sand digging work in the coming week. The tugs will then be busy towing the loaded scows from the dredges to this city and taking the light scows back down river.

On view and for sale the first time in Washington

Tomorrow Morning.

Three of these Suits are sketched by our local artist—there are 300 and more here to select from.

The Women's Suits

—at $16.50 and $22.50.

Tomorrow's Palais Royal Exposition and Sale—in third floor parlors—practically illustrates the new spring fashions as depicted in the various fashion magazines.

From two of New York's leading makers—famous for their reproductions and adaptations of imported garments—these Suits are correct in every detail.

The collection includes over three hundred models, each different, each expressive of a new spring type.

While most of these models are for the average woman—in sizes 36 and 38—ideals are also here for the smaller and larger.

Nominal prices are to be asked—$16.50 and $22.50.

Third Floor—6 elevators.

The Misses' Suits

"Sweet Sixteen," at $16.00.

One of these ideals is pictured here. It is an adaptation of a French Suit that cost three times $16.00 to import. It's a chic Paris style, with yoke and straight front, box back, topped off with belt and buckle in true French fashion. Front trimmed as shown in sketch, satin flowing tabs with a button finish, and with the smartest of new skirts, having the yoke effect, coupled to a pretty circular flare drape.

Many others at $16.00 with all the style of the imported and superior to them in tailoring.

Materials include gabardine, serge and poplins, in the new shades of Belgian blue, navy, putty, sand and checks in combination colorings.

Values to $10.00.

Various models, in sizes 20 to 26, at $3.69, instead of $5.00 to $6.50. Sizes 26 to 30, at $5.89, instead of $10.00.

Samples

$1.29 & $2.50

Values to $3.50.

These R & G models are recommended by Madam Mara to wear in conjunction with Binnet Corsets, assuring ultimate economy.
